Foreword

The aim of our efforts in preparing this volume of the Mango, has been to preserve some resemblance of the work and joys of the entire year. If in later life, this book brings sweet remembrance to a few M. H. S. students, our work has not been in vain.

MANGUM HIGH SCHOOL BUILDING

In Memory of Hansford McGowan

On Friday, December 3, 1920, we were both surprised and grieved to hear of the death of our classmate, Hansford McGowan.

Honsford was one of the most active members of the Freshman class, who was always up with his work and ready to make all he could a success. He played in the High School Band and Orchestra for the short time he was with us.

He started to school here in September, a stranger to most of us, but with his kind disposition and winning ways, on a contraction of both teachers and students. Hons and all never be forgotten by his friends in Mangum High School.

Committee,

VIRGINIA MERRITT, WINSTON YEARGER.

"Realms of Friendship"

"Realms of Frindship" word so dear.
If the words could only h
What I'd tell them I confess,
Would be more than tengur would gur

For these words make deep impression, On human minds, by their expression; That is those who can observe Half the meaning they preserve.

The full significance of these words, To immortal maids, have ne'er occurred, And no man ne'er, will this naich learn. For it's beyond the world's concern.

"Realms of Friendship," What a thought, Ne'er one like it has been taught, Words so sweet I never saw, They in my mind a picture draw,

Is beyond m compared are not to be, explained by small as we,

They reign throughout the world today, Yet never have a word to say; They only whisper in each heart; Shall I abide or now depart.

They by some are welcomed in, And by some are cuffed like sin; "Its only those who do not care, For where they are, nor what is there.

But long as I am in the world,
I'll try to keep this thought unfurled;
And the sweetes the shall pass my lips.
Will be the wor the of Friendship."

EULA HUGHES (Mule)

I i is a "Stue" in he class work. The teachers think she is a good student, but we say she is just naturally smart.

FLOYD WRIGHT

An earnest thoughtful student but if you want for him to tell you of his accomplishments, you will never hear them.

TENA JACKSON

Is there any thing she can't do well? Just name it please—We'd like to find at least one thing against her.

VIRGIL CASTLE (Punk)

Virgil is one of our "little" boys. But the size of a package doesn't det mine its value. He possesses will-power and sound judgment, and has an eye for business.

RHONDA JETER

A jolly girl, "Whose force of her own ment" makes her way; has decided opinions of her own, and is not afraid to ex-; as them

LUTHER BOONE (Luke)

Luther might get along without M. H. S. But we doubt if M. H. S. could get along without him. Me ts all demands good humoredly. He is always ready to take part in school activity, read to enjoy himself and entertain others.

OTTO LITTLE

A very satisfactory girl to be with, very apple to tive of wit. She also to a very choice sellection of jokes which she imple to her intimate from only.

LANDON McCOLLISTER (Mae)

A living comedy; delights in teasing the girls. But is very clever. H countenance is one hundred per cent.

LENA WYMAN

"Her modest looks, the cottage might ador; .
Sweet as the priiaro e that peeps beneath the thoin."

ELMER DUNCAN (Dane)

Dune usually make good grades but he den't believe in endangering his health by sudying too much and is also well known in the atlacte held.

FRANCES HANNAH (Pab)

Frances is very small in stature, but did you her smile? Here variety that makes "Miles and miles of smiles."

WILLER SCOTT

Bill is one of our peppy Seniors. He takes a lending part in all High School activities, est idly base ball and annual work

WATTIE CHAFFIN (Mat)

"No one knows of what she is thinking. It have be either books or the how she looks in stylish clothes."

AMON COLLINS

Amon is a new member of our class and is one who always sees two side to every question and is emally capable of taking either side

VIDA MELTON

Vida is one of our loving Seniors, who is admired by every one But "Her affections change with the wind.

IVAN OVERTON

"Time is precious, don't waste it," says Ivan, who studies every minute of his time? ? ? ?

ELIZABETH ROACH

the beth is interested in typewriting, and "One accomplished in the art of making friends."

LORA PHILLIPS

Lora will never be forgotten. Although she habeen in M. H. S. a short time she has proven ber friendslup since she has been here.

BESSIE TROMER (Bess)

Bess is a perfect jewel!
We can't say things too good for her. She is one of the best types of true womanhood. If you want

NAPOLEON CADDEL (Nappy)

Nappy is well known to his recitations and public speaking. He goes into it as if he really expected to mix it all up in his brain and make something new happen some day.

WINNIE POTTER (Win)

Winnie is one of our efficient Seniors, one that can be depended upon. She is jolly, good natured, and always ready for her part of fun. And whatever the future holds for her we wish her nothing but success.

FARL TAYLOR

Hearing him praised, we say, "Tis so. "Fis true," and to the most of praise add something new.

JENNIE LOU SATTERWHITE

Gentle, assuming, and meck, one who has done her part to make M. H. S the best school ever. Her aim however is not merely a high school education.

OTTO THROWER

Everything comes to those who wait, if they work while they wait.

CORENE CONNER

Corine is rather quiet, but altogether charming We haven't room to say all the good things could about her. Although she is a Senior we are inclined to think that a certain Sophomore is her choice.

ALICE GEYER

Alice is one of our original Seniors. Having had teachers' training, we feel that she will have a great influence over her pupils.

LORENA BROWN

Never fear to trust her word: her mind is clear and true.

EDITH HOOVER (Pag)

She has the ability of ng the right thing at right time. She has proven this by winning "Victor."

LOURALENE SHELTON

Louralene in o the boys, but instead of caring for "specialists" she likes them all. When entering school she had the instructors fooled. Some of them still labor under the delusion that she is a quiet and studious girl.

GORDON LOCKARD

He never feeds on dainties that are to be found in text books.

VERDE PITTS

Verdie is interested in her "friend and also in matrimony.

AVO DAVIS

Avo, one of our Seniors who is going out into the world to make good and we feel that she will make a great success in teach-school, having had training under the capable teachers in M. H. S.

GENEVIEVE CLARIV (Chicken)

She has music in her soul; is especially partial to the violin.

VERNA WEISLI

Many days shall see her yet each day pauses to crown her for some noble deed.

NANNIE HARRIS

Nannie is a Texas girl and we hope she has not regretted a moment of her life in M. H. S. And we know from the A's she has made in her business course, it will make her famous some day.

"Orange and Black"

Although Yale has always favored The violets dark blue And the many sons of Harvard To the crimson rose are true. We will own the likes slender Nor honor shall they lack, While the tiger stands defender 'Neath the Orange and the Black.

Thru the four long years of High School.

Mid'st the scenes we know so well

And the many charms to knowledge,

Which we vainly seek to spell,

We will win athletic victories

On the foot ball field or track

Still we'll work for dear old Mangum

And the Orange and Black.

When the cares of life o'er take us, Mingling fast our locks of grey Should our dearest hopes betray us, False fortunes fall away Still we'll banish care and sadness As we turn our memories back And recall those days of gladne 'Neath the Orange and the Black.

"Lives of Seniors"

Lives of Seniors all remind us
We should strive to do our best
And departing leave behind us
Note-books that will help the rest.
Note-books that perhaps another
Sailing o'er life's solemn mein,
A forlorn and ship-wrecked brother
Seeing, shall take hope again.

Class History

Two of the most important events contained in the world's history took place in the year of nineteen hundred and seventeen, when the United States made a formal declaration of war upon the German Empire, and a class of forty five members attacked the texts books containing the mysteries of the Freshman Year. As Freshman we proved our worth and presented four men on the winning foot-ball team. Among other things we learned, was that the Freshman Clas is usually considered "green.". With the assistance of Miss Nell Wiggins as Class Advisor, and an excellent faculty under the direction of Mr. Burris, the class emerged from the first year with a determination to continue.

September of nineteen and eighteen found us a embled together under the direction of Miss Coffman as Class Sponsor. This year was marked with much rivalry and many friendly class fights. The Sophomores, with the assistance of the Seniors were victorious in the last struggle of the year, when our class colors were set flying on the higher editices of the town.

The Jumor Year was started with Mr. Torti and Miss Hulet as Class Sponsors. After Miss Hulet's departure, Miss Jones was chosen to take us on the road to victory. A few of the original members of the class had answered Cupid's call and were now enjoying matrimonial bliss. After reorganizing our forces, we had a roll of thirty nine members. The Juniors realizing the difficulty of meeting the expenses of the Junior-Senior Banquet, started to work on the Junior play. And at an early date presented the play, "Whose Little Bride are You?" under the direction of Misses Jarbou and Lingenfelter. The success of the play was so great that authorities saw fit for its return and it was staged again to a full house. The east went to Hobart where the play was presented to an enthusiastic audience. The net proceeds made it possible to give the Seniors a very sumptuous banquet which was enjoyed by most every member of both classes despite the inclement weather of the night.

and a construction of the construction of the

Soon we were started on the fourth and last lap of our journey toward graduation. Mr. Smith and Miss Stewart were chosen as Class Sponsors and under their care the Semor Class has never failed in a single undertaking. Our Class Parents, Mr. and Mrs. Duffy, have done everything in their power to make our year's work as pleasant as possible. The many good times at their home can never be forgotten by the class of Twenty One.

This year finds us seated in the long coveted Senior scats in Chapel where we may sit as shining examples of knowledge before the less cultured Freshman Class. The last loop of our long journey is now looming into view as we continue plodding on our weary way determined to reach the goal which forty-five little Freshmen started out to attain in nineteen hundred seventeen. Now there are only this teen of the original members of the Freshman Class who have withstood all temptations to withdraw from the struggle and are now go-ngondros er a i de the far etti Sha. Cia

We must thank our excellent faculty for their kind and efficient co-operation with us in the work through which we have labored. And let us hope that each member of our class will show the world just how much we have gained from the combination of work, fun, sorrow, and success, by making real men and women in the world.

Now as we are nearing the end of our High School career and look back over the four years spent within the sacred walls of learning, there is a feeling of regret for we are about to depart to unknown helds of learning. We dare not think somowful of leaving the things which have grown dear to us. So awake! And out! We shall continue tighting a winning battle through life as we have done through Mangum High School.

Will

Know all men by these presents: That we, the Senior Class of '21, of the town of Mangum, in the County of Greer and State of Oklahoma, considering the uncertainty of school life, and being of sound mind and memory, do make, declare and publish this our last will and testament.

We give and bequeath unto our brothers and sisters of the Junior Class, our long coveted seats in Chapel, the privilege of holding class meetings in room ten and our influence upon each Faculty member.

To the Sophomores, we bequeath the opportunity of listening to Chapel announcements, with manifest diligence, never making any unnecessary noise

To the Freshies, we give our condolence in trivial matters as well as matters of moment.

For our "Pa" and "Ma", we shall always retain a high degree of reverence and esteem. We are not desirous of willing them away, in fact the Juniors can never have them. They are ours always.

To Mr. M. E. Bowman, and Mr. Emerson, we give them the customary privilege of making announcements in Chapel, and sincerely hope that they will have the undivided attention of all present.

To Mrs. Emerson, we give the privilege of reading all of the latest news, in "The Study Hall Daily."

To Mr. Lantz, we bequeath the opportunity of playing for Juniors. Sophomores, and Freshies with his latest high class instruments, broom-sticks, hammers and saws.

To Mr. L. L. Bowman, we will the Juniors, Sophomores and Fannier, as victims of his oratory

To Miss Patterson, we will our appreciation for teaching us how to play typewriting, sing shorthand, and practise law.

To Mr. Bradshaw, and Mr. Smith, we will our entire outstanding accounts for the betterment of the Manual Training and Agriculture departments.

To Mrs. Myrick, and Miss Jones, we will our love for both Latin and History.

To Miss Hanson and Miss Stinson, we give the privilege of advancing their theories of reaching infinity and cooking the right way, to next year's classes of mathematics and Domestic Science.

To Miss Stewart and Miss Simpson, we leave all direction of all special stunts for all class finance.

To Mr. Bennett, we give the privilege, and request that he accept it, of sitting with the Freshmen in the Auditorium.

We do nominate and appoint Mrs. James and Miss Cornell, executrixes of this, our last will and testament.

In testimony whereof, we have placed our seal, and subscribe our name, this twenty-sevnth day of May of ninteen hundred and twenty-one. A. D.

Signed, before me, this morning after the night before.

My Commission expires at three a. m. yesterday.

Senior Class '21.

Bob Winburne,

Notary Public.

Class Prophecy

As we sat in the dark room of the most famous fortune-teller of the East, waiting for her to appear, it semed darker and more dismal than ever. There was something in the air that struck us full of awe and fear. At last she came—this paragon of the East—a queer ommous looking creature. Her mein was quiet. Something about her appearance appalled us. At last she spoke in a soft, melodious voice, "You are eager to catch a glimpse of things that have happened to the Class of '21?" she asked, "Look into the magic crystal of my fore-fathers and the present will unfold before your eyes."

What is this we see? A multitude of people sitting breathlessly in a large room, Why so intent? Who is that dignified-looking man with large spectacles, keeping them so interested in what he is saying? Why no other than Otto Thrower, speaking on "why perpetual motion will not work." Scated at a large desk below him is the noted Stenographer, Tena Jackson.

Now our eyes behold a vine-covered cottage. But who is the woman? Why it is Lora Phillips, the mistress of this sweet little home.

Now we see a huge building—It is the Chicago National Bank. But wait; who is the man giving orders? It is no one but Lester Burnett, President.

The scene shifts to South America. Who are the persons talking so carnestly and making so many gestures? They are W. C. Smith and Luther Boone talking of how live stock are to be improved. From their untiring efforts most of the people of Brazil have improved their stock.

Again the scene shifts. We see a young woman telling a crowd of children something. But who is she? Why no other than Mayourleen Smith, a missionary in China.

Why is that crowd gathered in front of the building? Who is that talking so loud and making so many gestures? Now there are two talking. Who are they? Now we recognize them it is Bill Scott and Amon Collins fighting for the control of the Democrat party.

Again the scene changes. We see a handsome young man, sitting in a chair, giving orders to so many servants. Why are there so many people out in the front? Why are they so excited? They have just found out that Ivan Overton is a retired millionaire.

A large building next appears with a large sign over the door, "Lockard and Duncan, Successors to Heinz 57 Varities."

Now we see a huge building. It is the National Academy of Music. A class is in session. But who is the teacher? It is Louralene Shelton, now the world's famous Flutist.

Now there comes into our vision, the scene of a club room, with a number of women assembled. But why are they so excited? Why Edith Hoover and Verdie Pitts are debating on "How to Keep the Love of Your Husband."

Now we see a great ball room which is the scene of great gaiety and revelry. Who is that dignified-looking lady surrounded by a host of admirers? How beautiful she is! What a fine poise! Now we realize that it is Frances Hannah, most popular of the season's favorites.

Our attention is now attracted to the great Majestic Theatre, where we see a number of policemen attempting to control the crowd which is clamoring for admittance. Then we discover it is William Fox featuring Vida Melton, and Otto Little in "Carmen

Now we see a huge sign, but who is the electrician making such a heautiful display? We realize that it is Napoleon Caddell,

The scene shifts—we see a mine appear, but why do we see every one in such a hurry. The mine inspector has just arrived. But who is he? Sure he is our old friend Earl Taylor.

Now we see a little brick school building so neat, and filled with an air of refinement. But who are the aignified teachers? Merely, Verna Wetsel, Avo Davis and Genevieve Clark.

Our attention is now attracted by a large newspaper, and we instantly read the head lines. The next number of the star course will be a lecture by Hon. Virgil Castle, judge of the supreme court.

Next appears a large office, but who are the women working so diligently on that large book? Aha! They turn, and we see it is Bessie Kromer and Nannie Hari

Now our eyes behold a huge ship about to leave dock. But who are they, they are being showered with rice and old shoes? Why Helen Stewart and her newly wedded husband are starting on their honeynoon.

Who is the heautiful woman, so intensely interested in the hero of the play. We recognize at once it is Lena Wyman, wife of the famactor Louis Ory.

The scene shifts and we see an old colonial home, a stylish woman appears. It is Winnie Potter, who has married a wealthy man, and is living on the Chesapeake Bay, Maryland.

The Rocky Mountains next appear. But who is the man giving orders so boldly, why Landon McCollister, who is now the most noted construction engineer of the world.

Who is that business like woman, Aba! It's Mattie Chaffin, now the Manager of W. H. & F., Co., of Altus, Okla.

Now we see a beautiful home in Montana, Its mistres is no other than Eula Hugbes.

Again the vision changes and we see a country club. Who are the women so interested in golf? Only Corne Connor, Rhonda Jeter and Lorena Brown.

The next persons we see are Elizabeth Roach, and Esther Collier, who after finishing High School, went into the business world as stenographers.

We now see Hubert Veach, who is one of the biggest oil kings of the world.

Then again the mist fills the magic crystal, and Madam's voice in eaks the spell. We realize that it has been our privilege to see all .... ates, and we are happy to know that the future lives of the .... of the Classes of '21, will be surrounded by peace, prosperity, and happiness.

Junior Class History

It was a bright sunshine morning on Septemebr 16, 1918, that the now dignitied Juniors were enrolling as "green Freshmen." That was what the Sophs called us, for they had been Sophs, a whole three months. But in spite of the fact, we were Freshmen. The Sophs soon learned that we could give them just as good as they could send, of course the Seniors were a more respected group of "Ladies and Gentlemen." And Juniors, Ah the dignified Juniors would not even condescend to speak to us, and at this time silence was golden. Besides the pranks of the blood thirsty Sophs, we had our acquaintances Latin, Algebra, History and English with whom to contend. They were very hard to become acquainted with on account of their peculiar traits. But thanks to Miss Campbell our Chaperon, we did not do as the Seniors, Juniors or Sophs for scarcely any of us joined the popular flunkers club.

Then the Sophomore year passed ever so quickly, and the Freshmen year was far behind before we realized what we had gone thrue it at Freshmen. Then came the grandest thing in the world and that was revenge on the next bunch of Freshmen.

Now we are Juniors and have as our Pals, the best class in Mangum High School, the Freshmen. Of course they had things to learn just as all Freshmen do, but all being exceedingly bright, they have learned these things quickly and while doing this, made the best grades of any other classes.

We Juniors are looking forward eagerly to our first play and we know we are going to make a great success.

We certainly are having to "dig" now but here is to the best Principal and Superintendent, in the world, Mr. Bowman, and Mr. Emerson,

THE JUNIOR CLASS.

"Memories to Juniors"

Oft times in the dusk of the evening
As the long shadows go, one by one,
And the lights far away softly twinkle,
Bidding good-bye to the day that has gone
An unexplained feeling creeps our me
As my lamps set a glow in the room
And it seems that my friends appear ghost like,
My Juniors of Twenty-One.

As the coals in the fireplace seem brighter,
And the figures all gather around,
It seems we're again in our classes,
And hearing the sound of the gong.
Up again to chapel we're marching
In one body, One Hundred strong,
Just ghost like, we're watching those figures
Those Juniors of Twenty-One.

I awake from my dream with a shiver,
Why! the fire on the hearth has gone out.
And my door has been left open,
Hear the wind, as it's houwling about!
Take my annual from off the mantel,
Just notice the leaves, how worn.
Just because I am ne'er tired of reading
Of Juniors of Twenty-One.

M. J. Jr. '21.

We're just Sopohomore's that's all!
We don't know where we originated,
But in September last fall,
Sophs sprang up more than Bowman calculated.

Each of us belongs to some Organization Some join Flunker's club, some Honor Roll! But we'll each have some destination, When Mr. Bowman calls the judgment Roll!

Seniors say Sophomore means "wise fool", But we are quite contrary, And handy geometry tools. We tell 'em to look up Senior in the diccionary.

We strive for geometry abolishment;
But Freshies say "Make 'em stick to it!"
When they view the Sophs'—?—ouch!
In wide eyed astonishment,
Then they'll say "I wish't there's an answer to it."

But for public opinion, we don't care, All people have faults (Sophs their share) But some day to Alumni's place we'll get Then that's all, "darn it."

Freshmen Alphabet

A is for Annie, the beauty of our class In all kinds of winnings ways, she is not surpassed.

B is for Bachelor, who is really an old maid If you ever leave her, you'll wish you had stayed.

C is for Crook, who deserves not his name But we hope some day he will find fame.

D is for Dorothy, right jolly you'll find her. Where ever she goes she leaves a smile behind her.

E is for Elsie, another good student When e'er you meet her, you'll find her prudent.

F is for Freeman, her first name is Pearl, She is a good student and a very nice girl.

G is for Glen, who played foot ball; He is very neat and likewise very tall,

H is for Hall, Edna Pearle, as we know her if you find one better, we ask you just show her,

I is for idleness, which we all forsake For we are always busy and wide awake.

J is for Jacobs, we call him Pete Watch for a smile when him you meet.

K is for karl, a friend for cars, Who once in a wreck, received a few scars.

L is for Lanford, a very fine scholar; She is very neat from her shoes to her collar.

M is for Merritt, our Clas Present For our supremacy, many trials she underwent.

N is for Noble, another good Freshman Who doesn't do much, but does all he car.

O is for Ozella, her last name is M. When she des her work well she has many admirers.

P is for Pace, a right jolly elf, And all I can say is you'll like him yourself.

Q is for quantity of Freshman girls and boys Working with studies and not with toys.

R is for Rose, who does her work well But which class she is in, she'll never tell.

S is for Smiley, who smiles part of the time But smiles and frowns seem to be her rhyme.

T is for Trippett, she is very small Some day though she'll be quite tall.

U is for Unita, a distinguished lass. Who does what she can for the sake of her class.

V is for Vera, who is her own boss.

She has many gains, yet many a loss.

W is for Winburne, who never does frown, He always laughs in any part of the town.

X is for Xeuses, which we never make let these are better to give than to take.

Y is for Yeager, who admits his art He is always willing to do his part.

Z is for Zinn who likes the shows And she don't stay at home, but she goes.

Why ???

Why do the Seniors stare at us And call us "Noah's Ark" When Mr. Bowman brags on us And says that we are smart?

And why do the Jumors laugh at us And keep a winkin' their eyes, And call us "Mama's Baby" And think that they are so wise?

Why do the Sophomores shun us Everytime we pass them by, And say the Freshies are just a joke, And laugh and grin and sigh?

Why do the teachers say that we Are nothing but question askers. And give us F's and ever'thing. When we are working taskers?

And why do all the High School say "Just give them a little sigh,"
This is a question I keep asking myself,
Oh why, Oh why, Oh why?

H. R. B and W. H.

ATHLETICS MOMENT

: 7.H. 21. 70-71.

NAPOLEON CADDEL Left Tackle

Naply was a good tackle and firm as a brick wall at holding that line. He played in all of the games and never thought of giving up the fight. Truthfully he played well coasidering his being so little.

ELMER DUNCAN Right Guard

Dune was a bear at holding that line. He never let a man thru and was good at tack-ling.

ZACBRYE PRYSE Sub Quarter

Zack had the nerve which made up for his size. His slipping thru the centers of the line safty catches and sure tackles won him much worthy comment. Zack is little but mighty.

EARL TAYLOR End

Earl was the fastest man on the team and his hands were just like magnets, when it came to catching passes. He was a good tackler and in fact a good all around man. Taylor was late in entering the game, but displayed good football knowledge.

HARDY CLEMONS Right Tackle

Hardy did not play in every game but he showed that he was made of the right "stuff" for a real

DELMA CLEMONS Half Back

Delma was a cyclone line plunger and a whirlwind tackler. Delma was wayward in practice, But, Oh, Boy when he did come out he tore 'em up.

JOE BULL, Captain Full Back

Joe was a hard hitting line plunge, a good punter and pas fast on his feet. He was one of the three who played every minute of the season.

PAUL DOOLEN Quarter Back

Kildee was a whill wind at broken field running and was an excellent safety, being a sure tackler. He was cool headed and just running over with pep.

CLIFFORD VEACH Half Back

Chiff was fast and was good at catching passes as well as making end runs. He was always on the job, and played a "Knock 'emout game."

LLOYD LATHAM Right Tackle

LLEWLYAN CADDLL Right End

Llewlyan Caddel was good at catching the long passes and was a fairly good tackler. He has the nerve and pep of a real player and will be a strong man for M. H. S., in his next two

ILSTER BURNLET Right Guard

Burnet was , stone wall guard and , good all round player.

TANDON McCOLLISTER Center

Mac was an old trusty, (in football of course) always on the job and boosting every nanute. At centers he could not be sur, and we regret that this is his last year in M. H. S. grid iron work.

FRANCIS DOOLEN Left Guard

Dizzy was a little slow but when he tackled a man he put him down. And when it came to holding that line he was just like a Bull dog. He was always on the job at practise and he played in most of the games.

MESIC

Our music department has made a great showing in High School retrictes and the instruction of Mr. Lantz and Miss Simpson. Each student of music has made good in classical selections in all school entertainments. And their work has not only been confined to school affairs. But at public gatherings of community interest, our band and orchestra have taken an active part. The cup offered by the S. W. I. M., at Weatherford, was taken by our orchestra, this being the econd year that they have so honored to

The trip to Norman, by both the band and orchestra did not give us trut honors in the contest, however our band had the distinction of being the only full uniformed band in the contest, and the orchestra did exceedingly well

We have a musical department of which we are proud and one which Mangum business men have supported at all times,

AGGIES
Bull, Nelson, Mr. Smith, Muse, Smith,

Consolement From a Senior

There! little Freshie, don't cry!
They've made fun of you, I know;
And your timed heart
Can't that part,
Though they're the things of long ago;
But acquaintance and friendship will soon come by,
There! little Freshie, don't cry!

There! little Freshie, don't cry
They've given you an F, I know;
And your A's and B's
And pleasing C's too,
Are the things of long ago
But your High School troubles will soon pass by,
There! little Freshie, don't cry!

There! little Freshie, don't cry'
You've lost your credit, I know;
And your hopes are gone
And your thoughts
But let them be not always so
For your credit will be made by and by,
There! little Freshie, don't cry!

"School Days"

How well I know what I mean to do, When the long dark school days come; And where, my brain, is thy pleasant rest? With the monotony of voices not dumb, In High School days that are best:

I shall be found in the study hall, I suppose,
O'er a pile of books as old as an age;
While the windows rattle as the north wind blows,
Meanwhile, I memorize poetry and prose,

Life is a joke and all things show it, Look at a Freshie Then you'll know it.

You can lead a horse to water
But you can't make him drink,
You can show a Sophomore his lessons
You'd But you can't make him think.

Hail to the Juniors!

That is to us, we wis to be as wise as a century living owl.

Just turn the page again and get a glimpse of our faces, and see if you cannot detect something in them to fullfil our wishes.

The Juniors of twenty-one, are going to graduate with the highest honors yet.

No, we are not boasting, for we are not a class of boasters, but that was our aim when we first entered Margum High, SO!

Watch us grow. Watch our class be "The Best of Classes that have graduated from Mangum High."

"The Owl"

Now a wise old owl—who resides in the hall, Watches our passing one by one. And each time we pass, tho' we see him not, He lists to our chattering, gosrip and fun. Now who is this old owl—who resides in the hall? Watching our passing one by one, He is the Spirit of Wisdom, who represents the Jumors, The Jumors of Twenty-One.

The shades of night were falling fast
As through the town a young man p ed,
One eye was black, the other green,
I whis lips a smile screne,
I was a smile screne,
I was those who stood about,
I was teeth had fallen out.
One leg was twisted all awry,
Huge lumps festooned his starboard thigh,
But though his battered form was bent,

The dearest thing
The unequaled in fame

A Freshie's Prayer

Backward, turn backward
Oh, time in your flight,
Make me a grade student
Just for tonight.

Give me permission to do
As I please
To shoot paper wads and talk
While precious time flees.

I'm tired of high school's troubles I'm tired of its cares I'm tired of long lessons And quiz bugabea

Yes backward, turn backward
Oh, time in your flight
Make me a grade student
Just for tonight.

The Student Who Wins

The student who wins, will never be late And always be ready, when his part is to state. He will always be there, when it comes time to study; He will never be late, I don't care if 'tis muddy.

He will always be there, when it comes time to play: And have a mouth full, of something to say. The student who wins, will always do right; And never do wrong, the teacher to spite.

The student who wins, will in public be true; And never do things, that he ought not to do. The student who wins, will always obey; And do just what ever, the teacher may say.

The student who wins, is one with a great chance; And gets a great thought, from just a mere glance. The student who wins, has a very broad mind; He does his very best, with any study he finds.

An unknown author thus writes of a nut:

It is a nut, yet when it falls from a tree it has wrapped up in its shell an unalterable purpose to produce an oak tree.

It is a nut, but it only needs the environments of earth, warmth and moisture to accomplish its job.

It is a nut, but it never produces a string bean vine, a lemon tree or a huckleberry bush.

It is a nut, but it specializes in oak trees and never fails. You, too, may be a nut, but if you specialize you'll win.

"Is that horse sick Bill" Asked Charlie.
"Not that I know of" answered Bill,
"I ain't noticed no symptoms."
"Does he balk?" continued Charlie

"No, he don't balk, but he's so darn afraid I'll say 'Whoa' and he won't hear me that he stops every once in a while to listen."

Wilma: "Did you say with a frown on his porch, stood on his face?"

"Did you like my pound cake?" asked Mrs. James.
"I didn't like your ten pound cake." answered her husband.

Rachel Wilson: "How do you like 'Dreams of a Mid-Summer Night?'" Marie Moore: "It all depends upon what you dream."

Mrs. Bowman: "Does your husband remember the anniversary of your marriage?"

Mrs. Emerson: "Never, so I remind him of it in Jan. and June both, and

Mr. Doolen: "Francis you are always behind in your studies" Francis: "Well you see if I were not I could not pursue them."

Mr. Bowman (in dismissing chapel). "All girls go to room 6 and the boys to the study hall."

Benny I "Why did Bill Scott drop Psychology?"

I are no B. 'He doesn't need it, its a study of the brain."

Bennie: "Well what of that?"

Lorena: "Well, that's what he aint got."

Mrs. Emerson visited the office at enrollment time, and studied carefully the features of each new student. Many of the persons enrolling she recognized as pupils of last year. Some, she remembered as being very good in the Study Hall, others, for their standard grades; others for their long membership in the Flunkers' Club; and still others, for their record in athletics.

A person of remarkable appearance came before her. He was short of stature; had wavy hair and large brown eyes. Mrs. Emerson judged him as a good student. One who would give no teacher a great deal of trouble, but she was less sure about him troubling the girls. His broad shoulders, athletic form and quick step assured her that he would be a star player on the gridiron. One thing troubled Mrs. Emerson's mind very much. He was so young, healthy, and strong, and yet so timid. Resolving that he was a Freshman, she decided to introduce him to some of the girls and make him feel at home in High School. But just at that time Mr. Bowman turned to that same young man and asked "When do you teach agriculture, Mr. Smith?" IT was he.

Adelyn: "An algebraic expression is an expression expressed in the expression of algebra."

Miss Stenson: "Edgar I'll leave a list of these names with the President of your class."

Edgar: "Who is the insect?"

Dorothy Lail: "I don't know whether I like these pictures or not. They seem rather indistinct."

Ed: "You must remember madam, that your face is not at all plain."

I wish I was a book Written with great skill And doing nothing all day long But just a laying still.

I wouldn't study, I wouldn't recite I wouldn't even talk I'd leave erasers alone And likewise all the chalk.

I'd permit others to move me But I wouldn't use a strain I'd let them even the and But let them try in value

So I'd love to be a book
"Twould be pleasant you'll admit,
"Cause I'd laugh at others flunking.
Flunking for lack of wit,
